

Remember!

Lying within you are gifts, talents, dreams, and desires that are all bigger than you. They have been placed there by God as you have received His Word into your heart. His seed comes to take root. And these seeds have all been growing. 1 Timothy 1:6 declares,

"Therefore I remind you to stir up the gift of God which is in you through the laying on of my hands."

The gifts within you do not grow, they are not stirred through human effort or human ability. When Paul said "therefore I remind you," he was telling Timothy to remember once again all of those things which God had done in the past. The Holy Spirit is asking us to remember over and over again all of His wonderful works! Remember how He has healed you, how He has restored you, how He has delivered you, how He has provided for you. How He has brought you here. Remember His faithfulness! And as we reflect how big God has been in our lives, faith is released within us. That faith is what stirs the gift!

God has more for you in 2013! He wants to move in you, and through you this coming year! I have said many times, if we simply refuse to quit, if we continue to remain together, if we will stay constantly in prayer, God will move once again! He is doing that right now!

Because of God's faithfulness and your hunger for Him, we now stand before a new harvest! The end of this month we are gearing up for another outreach to touch others with the Love of Jesus Christ. Will you be a part? Will you help? Do not ignore the Gift of God already within you. This is not the time to separate; this is the time to be engaged! Be alert and receptive. Do not abort the legacy and operations ordained by the Spirit of God for your life. Now is the time to receive! Trust God. He will bring it to pass. As you abide in Him, and He abides in you, then fulfillment will take place. Just be faithful to the gifts and callings within you that are being awakened. Do not be afraid! That saving faith within you is stirring every gift! So, in 2013, take another step. Christ will demonstrate His Kingdom through every gift being stirred within you. Are you ready?

Randy Bach
©2013